The Tufts University Operations Division is proud to direct essential functions and services for the Tufts community across four campuses, spanning 750 acres and including 225 buildings. Our staff of over 500 operates 14 dining facilities, ensures delivery of all incoming/outgoing and intercampus mail, and administers the provision of public and environmental safety and the upkeep of grounds and physical plants. Responsible as well for campus planning, sustainable waste management and the oversight of all construction and renovation projects, we strive to deliver high quality, reliable and innovative services that are responsive to the changing needs of the Tufts University community.

What You'll Do

This position of Assistant Director, Real Estate exists to provide support to the Senior Director of Real Estate and the Operations Division of Tufts in the execution of all real estate matters and activities of the University. This is a pivotal role that will actively manage the day-to-day operations of the real estate department while the division explores and implements process improvement initiatives to grow and streamline the department to better serve the University into the future. This role will be critical in maintaining the day-to-day functionality of university real estate operations, while maintaining flexibility to grow with the organization as changes are implemented.

Essential Functions:

- University Leasing – Manage and negotiate all University leases as both tenant and Landlord. Manage landlord tenant relationships. Establish optimal asset leasing strategy to maximize value and achieve University goals. Approve all leasing related costs and invoices.
- Coordinate with the capital projects, facilities and campus planning teams in the identification and implementation of space opportunities and new development.
- Manage property tax and PILOT obligations with Government and Community Relations.
- Coordinate valuation, acquisition and disposition of real estate assets and gifts to the University.
- Provide advisory services to individual schools and the university overall as the first point of contact to understand and address ongoing real estate strategy and issues.
- Employ strategies to address the day-to-day issues arising within the university real estate portfolio. Recommend system-wide improvements and best practices.
- Gather and maintain current market information for Tufts distinct campuses. Maintain working knowledge of current market dynamics and pricing for utilization in real estate scenarios and decisions.
- Coordinate with both in-house and external legal counsel in implementation of real estate matters.
- Coordination with University Finance division regarding real estate financial projections and impacts as well as integration of real estate related data into budget projections.
