Are you passionate about shaping the future of healthcare education? Do you possess visionary leadership skills coupled with a deep understanding of health sciences? This is a remarkable opportunity to serve in this critical leadership role, leading an esteemed institution as the Dean of the School of Health Sciences at the College of Southern Maryland (CSM).

At CSM we are dedicated to fostering excellence in health and sciences education and research. Our institution boasts state-of-the-art facilities, world-class faculty, and a commitment to innovation in healthcare. The next Dean plays a pivotal role in advancing the academic and administrative functions within the School of Health Sciences collaborating with faculty, staff, and administrators to enhance the quality of education, foster innovation, and promote student success. The Dean provides strategic leadership to ensure that it reflects the mission and core values of the college: collaboration, equity, excellence, inclusivity, innovation, integrity, and respect.

Reporting to the Vice President of the Division of Learning, the Dean will join a team of highly committed colleagues who are dedicated to serving the students and the community while maintaining successful student outcomes. The Dean represents the School to internal and external stakeholders and cultivates an open and responsive culture that invites feedback and new ideas. The Dean serves as an advocate for the School's educational programs, providing leadership to faculty and staff to ensure consistent high-quality standards in curricula and programs that meet the needs of students and the region. The Dean oversees the academic integrity of the School and provides leadership in planning, budgeting, curriculum, program development and scheduling. The Dean oversees the hiring, support and professional development, scheduling, and evaluation of School faculty and staff. The Dean ensures compliance with various accrediting bodies as well as with Maryland and federal regulations.

The Dean of Health Sciences supervises the following positions:

- Administrative Assistant
- Associate Dean/Chair, School of Health Sciences
- Chair, Nursing
- Chair, Health

Living in the Area

La Plata is a town with a population of over 10,000 located in Charles County, Maryland about 35 miles south of the Nation's capital. La Plata has a rich history dating back to its founding in the 19th century and has evolved into a vibrant community with a mix of residential, commercial, and cultural attractions. La Plata's popular historic downtown area is lined with charming shops, restaurants, and historic buildings. The town also hosts various events and festivals throughout the year such as Christmas in La Plata and the Festival at The Wharf, attracting both residents and visitors alike. La Plata is surrounded by scenic parks, trails, and waterways, providing residents with many outdoor activities such as hiking, biking, and boating.

The cost of living in La Plata is 3.2% lower than the average in Maryland and compared to neighboring areas like Washington, D.C., and Northern Virginia, La Plata offers more affordable housing options.
