What You'll Do

A letter of interest and a resume are required to be considered for this position.

The Associate Director of Admissions for the School of the Museum of Fine Arts at Tufts will be an experienced member of the undergraduate admissions team, responsible for recruiting and selecting students and for fulfilling the enrollment objectives set by the University. The Associate Director of Admissions will be responsible for managing a portfolio that includes studio art portfolio reviews, school visits, information sessions for prospective SMFA students, special events and yield, selection management, and others as determined. This position plays a key role in the management of the SMFA-based admissions team located on the SMFA Fenway campus.

- Implement the office's strategy for assigned portfolio. Portfolio oversight typically involves long-term management of complex projects, delegation of tasks, management of contributing staff members, creation and presentation of training materials, data analysis and assessment, etc.
- Manage the daily operations of the SMFA Admissions office on the Fenway campus.
- Coordinate the Fenway campus visit schedule and visitor experience.
- Actively participate in the undergraduate application review and selection processes, including the evaluation of applications and studio art portfolios in alignment with training protocol and participation in selection committees as a member. If appropriate, Associate Directors may be asked to take on leadership roles throughout the selection cycle through process management or committee chairing.
- Serve as an on-campus point-of-contact for visitors. Communicate with students, families, school/organization counselors, and the general public via in-person conversations, email, and phone.
- Liaise with campus partners and external organizations to support portfolio and office-wide initiatives.
- Conduct virtual and in-person information sessions, portfolio reviews, and workshops for a variety of audiences, both on-campus and off-campus.
- As requested by the Dean and/or Director, create, facilitate, or contribute to office training initiatives for admissions officer and/or administrative staff.
- Directly supervise 1-3 professional staff members and serve as a member of the Management Team.
- Participate in both the evaluation of domestic applications and domestic recruitment travel as requested.
- Complete other projects and duties as assigned.

While this is a hybrid role, there is an expectation of regular campus presence throughout the year; some Associate Director roles may require greater campus presence due to portfolio needs.
