College of Liberal Arts

Associate Dean

Kean University in Union, New Jersey has grown into a comprehensive, global institution of higher education serving a diverse enrollment of more than 17,000 undergraduate and graduate students worldwide. Kean, New Jersey’s first Urban Research University, creates a world-class, innovative and inclusive society through equity and excellence in teaching, learning, global research, and impactful public engagement.

Kean offers more than 50 undergraduate degrees over a full range of academic subjects, six doctoral degree programs and more than 70 options for graduate study leading to master’s degrees, professional diplomas or certifications. The University is also a higher education innovator within the State of New Jersey, partnering with Ocean County College, in Toms River, New Jersey and Brookdale Community College, in Lincroft, New Jersey, to provide access for students to earn a bachelor’s degree from Kean. The Kean Skylands campus, located in Jefferson Township, New Jersey, is designed to serve as an outdoor living laboratory for field-based scientific study and other classroom and field instruction. Kean also has an additional campus location in Wenzhou, China. Wenzhou-Kean University offers students an immersive Chinese cultural experience, on a fully-English speaking campus, with American academic programs that mirror those Kean offers in New Jersey.

We are excited to invite applications for the Associate Dean of the College of Liberal Arts. The College of Liberal Arts is one of six colleges at Kean’s main campus in Union. The College houses eight departments: English (including ESL); History; Fine Arts; Music; Theatre; Communications, Media and Journalism; Psychology; and Political, Social and Cultural Sciences. Each department houses majors and both disciplinary and multidisciplinary minors, with the majority of departments offering both
