AUR's future for years to come.

Established in 1969, AUR is a private liberal arts university founded on the idea that Rome is an ideal classroom and that a student's educational experience is broadened and enriched by living in a multicultural environment. A unique and extraordinary institution, AUR's faculty and staff teach, engage, and support approximately 700 undergraduate and graduate students representing over 50 countries. While all programs are conducted in English, 28 native languages are spoken among faculty and students. AUR's academic programs are defined by a combination of theory and practice, abundant opportunities to gain real-world experience, and small classes that create intimate learning environments.

Under the leadership of President Scott Sprenger, the Provost will join AUR at inflection point as the University embarks on a new chapter marked by enrollment growth, a strengthened financial position, and comprehensive strategic planning. The Provost will work closely with the faculty, President, senior leadership, and the Board of Trustees, providing visionary leadership and strategic thinking to advance institutional goals and support sustainable growth. The Provost will be a champion of the liberal arts and support a culture of continuous improvement, thoughtfully incorporating technological advances, pedagogical innovations, and best practices across teaching, learning, and advising.
