production releases. This includes all normal production activities including business process administration, security administration, reporting, testing, and quality assurance as well as new solutions built on the existing platform to meet future business needs and implementation of configuration and deployment requirements for future Workday modules. The individual in this position must have broad knowledge of Stevens' business processes and offer solid planning and guidance to ensure functional areas are provided with outstanding support and effective solutions. The successful candidate will work collaboratively with stakeholders from academic and administrative units to provide them with guidance and support in performing daily tasks. The successful candidate will report to and assist the Director of Financial Systems in the oversight of all financial systems utilized by the university. Leadership, team building, project management, vendor management, and customer-centricity are key characteristics of a successful candidate for this position.

Responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

- Assist the Director of Financial Systems in ensuring that all existing systems are operating efficiently.
- Work as a significant part of the team responsible for the implementation of Workday Finance.
- Assist in planning and coordinating necessary testing during the implementation of the WD Finance to ensure it is successfully completed for all changes and that any issues which arise are properly captured and resolved.
- Proactively and continuously pursue professional development and training.
- Perform additional duties as assigned that may arise outside Workday platform but are related to providing support to the campus community.
- Assisting other members of the Financial Systems team in supporting all existing systems: Quali, Sisense, Concur, JPM Banking.
- Assist the finance customer support team, in investigating and solving the root cause of questions and issues, and recommending communications, training, and other resource development for campus users.
- Analyze and assess the issues reported and make the determination for the best course of action. He/she needs to come up with a short- or long-term solution depending on the case.
- As needed, the Assistant Director of Financial Systems will contact technical support for vendors whose system requires escalation (Workday, Quali, Concur).

Required Qualifications

- Bachelor's degree in a business or technology-related field, or equivalent training and experience
- 3+ years of experience with a finance related ERP platform
- Experience with large-scale system implementations and enhancements
